

Divine Decree

excerpts

You know Africa never really did shit to you
She blessed you, natured you
She made you anew
She gave you civility and showed you what to do so from my ancestors tomb
I'd like to cast this here spell on you
Your racist government will cease to exist
Then nature itself is gonna put an end to your shit

When the bones of black slaves
Rerise from their graves
To rebel and rage from the things that you made
From the dawn of your history
And even today
We've fought to eradicate your evil ass hate
The sun bleeds blood when it rises here in the west
Ah - we are gonna see if George Bush can pass this motherfuckin' test

The space shuttle you launch will do no damn good
You'll answer to the babies
Here in the slums, here in the hood
Your empire just might fall into the sea
And this shit was approved by Divine Decree
